HOOPSTERS RANKED NUMBER TWO IN COUNTRY

The number two ranked men's university basketball team in Canada continues its march towards a berth in the National championships. Doug Daigneault's Concordia Stingers captured their fifth Quebec University Athletics Association victory in as many games last Friday night, with a 94-79 triumph over Trois Rivières before a packed house at the Loyola Campus gymnasium. Veteran Craig Norman had 28 points.

Concordia's overall record this year is 15-2. The club will travel to McGill Friday night (8:30 p.m.) for a date with the Redmen and follow that up with a clash against the highly respected Canadian All-Star team at home the next night at 8 p.m. Tickets for the contest are $4 for adults and $2 for children and Concordia students. The Stars won't be easy pickings by any stretch of the imagination. Their 29-1 record for 1985-86 includes wins over Acadia and St. Mary's.

Meanwhile, Concordia's women basketball club remains winless following a 72-45 loss to the University of Laval Friday night.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY TOURNAMENT COMING UP

The Theresa Humes Invitational Women's Hockey Tournament will be staged at Concordia over the weekend of January 31. First round action will see Queens play Cornell, John Abbott battle Princeton, Concordia matched up against St. Lawrence and University of Laval taking on Northeastern. There will be four more games on the Saturday with the championship contest scheduled for Sunday at 2 p.m.
